PARISH BOOK OF CHANT #222, ACBOH #206

The image shows three staves of musical notation for a chant. Each staff consists of a treble clef, a single line, and a bottom line. The notes are represented by small black squares (neumes) placed on the lines and spaces. Some notes have a diamond-shaped accent above them. Vertical bar lines divide the music into measures. The lyrics are printed below each staff, aligned with the notes.
